THE LANDMARK TIMES

The Landmark Hotel takes major accolade at Wedding Awards

New pic in here will sort this out when i see the pic

2010 began with the phenomenal news that The Landmark's Patricia Corrigan had been awarded the national accolade of 'Wedding Coordinator of the Year for 2009' and that The Landmark had been shortlisted for 'National Wedding Venue of the Year 2009'.

The competition for the WeddingsOnLine Wedding Awards 2009 was keen with wedding venues and wedding specialist companies alike vying for this much coveted award. Nominations were made, a shortlist drawn up and it came down to just 6 individuals from throughout the country – the elite of the industry.

Patricia ensures that every couple who plans their Wedding with The Landmark Hotel does so with a confidence that every detail will be attended to with passion and flair. Her award was achieved based on nominations made by previous Landmark Brides and Grooms as well as their guests. We believe that they are the only true judges and that it is against this feedback that we benchmark our service.

When asked, the Sales & Marketing Manager Aoife McCormack had this to say, "We are all thrilled for Patricia, her enthusiasm and dedication to each and every couple is amazing. Patricia personifies the Landmark Wedding Experience - energy, innovation, quality service, attention to detail and dependability. And of course there is a great team working alongside Patricia who mirror her passionate dedication to each Wedding Day.

The Landmark has had a very busy year celebrating amazing wedding days with a lot of very special and loved up couples. We work hard to ensure that each couple loves every minute of the planning process and of course the big day itself. The whole team at The Landmark works to a 'can do' ethos, we love what we do and we love the fact that our couples love it too! From us all here at The Landmark we would like to thank all those who took the time to nominate the Landmark and Patricia. We are very encouraged by your support and will continue to up our game, ensuring that all future couples enjoy the same Landmark Wedding Experience."
